IRIS Education offer simple solutions for complex school management. Thousands of schools trust our suite of MIS-integrated software to power their back office and administration.

We utilise modern cloud-based technology to provide reliable, safe and secure computing that can be accessed all day, every day, from anywhere at all – perfect for busy teachers and senior staff who are on the move.

We do this by working with schools to understand their particular challenges, and then installing tailor-made software packages, designed to make life easier for staff, parents and children. This saves schools time, money and repeated work.

YPO supplies products and services, and is 100% publicly owned. This means that the profits we make are returned to our public sector customers, delivering even better value for money. We have a large choice available from leading UK suppliers, so we can provide you with everything you could possibly need to successfully run your organisation. Our range includes over 33,000 products and 90 frameworks; so whether it's pens and paper, computers, furniture, or even things like electricity and insurance, we can help you get the best deals around.

Working in Education comes with uncertainty.

Legal requirements are always changing and compliant practice can become bad practice overnight. Ofsted are constantly broadening their scope and shifting their focus. Schools are expected to tackle social issues far beyond Education and outcomes.

There's a mountain of information that needs to be read, understood and actioned.

At TheSchoolBus, it's our mission to stop uncertainty and admin getting in the way of educating.

Our online services help school professionals spend less time searching online for answers, less money on consultancy and training, and dedicate more time and money to the classroom.

Find out why 30,000+ school professionals trust Hub4Leaders to keep them compliant at www.hub4leaders.co.uk.
